

CHRISTINA REFUSES TO GET HELP

Life & Style WEEKLY

MARCH 24, 2011

ONLY $2.99

EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW

CHARLIE SHEEN ADMITS 'I'M LOSING MY MIND'

After Charlie loses his job and kids, friends fear he's suicidal. He tells Life & Style, 'My lawyer wants to take the bullets out of my gun'

BABY NEWS

BACHELOR EXCLUSIVE
A BABY FOR BRAD!

TEEN MOM CHELSEA HEARTBROKEN AND ALONE

INSIDE MARIAH'S BABY SHOWER

g's trickiest trends

But repeat after us: You can pull them off!

MIXED PRINTS

A bold pattern needs a smaller, subtle one to support it: Think a bright patterned blouse with pin-striped pants. Want to make a bigger statement? "If you combine bold prints, keep them in the same color family," says Kelly.

Zara top, $80, zara.com; LuLu's skirt, $30, lulus.com

Forever 21 top, $6, Heritage 1981 skirt, $17, forever21.com

RIHANNA

BOLD COLOR

Rihanna wears color right! "You never want to mix more than two bright solids," says Kelly. "And when it comes to mixing brights, you need to ground them with neutral accessories."

In Add Minus, $160, inaddminus.com

Twenty8Twelve, $280, kmorganboutique.com

MIDLENGTH HEMS

Let's be honest: A dress or skirt that hits midcalf can make you appear short and squat — unless you counter it by adding height on top. "Try to accentuate higher than your natural waist," suggests Kelly. A fitted high waist like Drew's, a cropped jacket or a belt worn high on the body tricks the eyes. Heels are also a must to avoid looking dowdy!

DREW BARRYMORE

Alice + Olivia by Stacey Bendet, $198, aliceandolivia.com

